SPEAKERS:

Peter and Zach Clouse - Will be sharing their plans for an Historical Research Expedition to film Battle of the Bulge locations. They will be discussing the National Guard's service during World War II and showing Zachary's WNYT new segment on the 254th Engineer Battalion which just won a New York News Emmy.

Major General (Retired) Fergal Foley - enlisted in the 18th Airborne Corps at Fort Bragg, NC, before being commissioned in 1980. He had numerous leadership assignments including Platoon, Company, Battalion, and Brigade Command. He served as Joint Task Force Deputy Commander for Operation Trade Center following the attacks on the World Trade Center. Other assignments included serving in Joint Task Force leadership roles for the 2003 New York City "Blackout".

Major (Retired) Denise Sherman - an Iraq War Veteran and a member of the New York Army National Guard for 23 years. Denise was an amazing Officer for the New York National Guard. Denise is an entrepreneur, she is an amazing mother, wife and speaker. She is an inspiration to all of us.

Special Guest, Andrew "Doc" Berry, APA Fellow
